DEPARTMENT OF ENGLISH

The Department of English started functioning in 1998 with the establishment of the Kokrajhar campus of Gauhati University for the academic upliftment of the people of lower Assam. In 2001, Gauhati University introduced a semester system replacing the traditional system of the syllabus, which had been continuing for a long time.

Apart from teaching and research on the English language and literature, English Department has been striving to give students and researchers interdisciplinary knowledge and outlook, keeping in view the global academic demand and pursuit. The Department engages students in interpreting literature in the light of theories prevalent in the leading universities of the world and promotes research activities. Since the Department is committed to the development of the region, besides making the students sensible in the field of literature and culture and making them fit for the job market or making them capable of picking up the right career after University education, it also gives them new insight to interpret their literature and culture which may occupy a significant position in World Literature. Hence, English Department, in its present perspective, analyses Indian studies from different angles of global thought and scholarship. MA (English) syllabus of Bodoland University is a well designed, innovative and compact course that covers a vast area ranging from British literature, European Literature, American Literature, African Literature, Indian Literature, to emerging humanities like Culture Studies, Media Studies, Gender Studies, Northeast Writings in English, Women's Writing, Translation Studies, Linguistics and Hypertext, etc. The Ph.D syllabi are also based on the pursuit and trend of global academic research leading to free articulation and thinking.

VISION

The Department moves forward with the conviction that the discipline is not just for the privileged section with a bureaucratic bent of mind; it instead extends its patronage to all the English knowing people in a global atmosphere irrespective of caste, creed, and religion. In Bodoland University, it acts as an interpreter, promoter and transformer; all rolled in one.

MISSION

- ❖ To encourage unity and diversity at a time when the world is collapsing because of ideological conflict

DEPARTMENT OF GEOGRAPHY

Geography is a diverse discipline that bridges the arts and social and natural sciences, providing a comprehensive education that discusses pressing issues including environmental change, regional and global inequalities and the transmutation of global economy and culture. Geography studies the places and the relationships between people and their environments. Geographers explore both the physical properties of Earth's surface and the human societies spread across it. By studying Geography, students obtain a unified view of the rapidly-changing world and how society influences and are influenced by it. The Bodoland University Geography focuses on the interrelationship between the physical and human environment. The Department was established under the faculty of Environment Studies in August 2015, is committed to delivering its curriculum to resume education for the refurbishment of our physical and social environment. Thus, anybody who wants a career that takes him outside the walls of an office or solves global problems should consider studying geography. The degrees in geography offer concentrations to prepare graduates for multiple career paths.

VISION

To be a globally known academic school for our innovative, cutting-edge research in a human and natural system that defines the evolving discipline to answer the fundamental questions of global importance through innovative, engaged and relevant teaching and research

MISSION

- ❖ To disseminate geographical knowledge through mentorship model to graduate masters, M.Phil. and doctoral students to meet the challenges associated with the continuing evolution of geographic science and reach the highest international standards
- ❖ To provide a learning environment that nourishes knowledge, skills and wisdom with lively instructional experiences

PROGRAMMES OFFERED

MA / M.Sc in Geography

In the Master degree course, students are introduced to a spectrum of geographical topics and Remote Sensing and GIS in the first two semesters that are followed up in more detail in the final year. Students must perform 92 credits to earn a master degree in Geography. With full-time enrolment, students can become a post-graduate in two years.

SPECIALIZATION OFFERED

- 1) Geomorphology (landscapes, bodies of water and geomorphic processes, and human impact on geographic elements).
- 2) Population Geography (humanistic nature of the geographical world, classificatory nature of human geographical work).

FIELDWORK OPPORTUNITIES

In teaching Geography, we emphasize the importance of fieldwork since we believe there is no substitute for teaching subjects first-hand. Thus, in the second semester, students take part in a week-long field course within the country. In the final semester, students will do independent research in the field and submit a dissertation for evaluation.

Ph.D PROGRAMME

The Department has opened up the opportunity for research by introducing Ph.D in 2019. With the present faculty position, Geography of Bodoland University endeavours to study the multifaceted predicament and concerns related to the environment and society faced by the region. Most of us do research that addresses the core concerns of environmental and social issues. We seek to understand inequalities within and across the country and the world and understand how the study of the environment and social issues can help eliminate constraints of resource development and social well-being for all protecting our ecosystems.

CENTRE FOR BAMBOO STUDIES

Initiated in 2013-14 as Diploma in Bamboo Technology course under the aegis of Department of Biotechnology, Bodoland University was sponsored by the Agriculture Department, Bodoland Territorial Council Secretariat, Bodofa Nwngwr, Kokrajhar and National Mission on Bamboo Applications, New Delhi. It was upgraded to the “Centre for Bamboo Studies” in 2017 with its independent identity.

Bamboo is an important natural, renewable livelihood resource in Bodoland Territorial Council, which grows in about one-third of natural forest as pure and mixed are cultivated on homestead & non-forest land. Bamboo production in the Bodoland Territorial Region is quite low. There is a need to enhance it through scientific Cultivation of suitable species and improved management of bamboo-based non-forest or forest.

Since bamboo is the primary source of livelihood for rural people of this region, it is, therefore, the need of the hour to make the people aware of the proper use and scope of Bamboo in Bodoland. The course is very much important for Bodoland Territorial Council because it provides them in-depth knowledge in various aspects of bamboos.

VISION

The primary aim of the course is to motivate students for self-employment, as well as to carry out extensive research in various aspects of bamboo with particular emphasis on bamboo cultivation and germplasm conservation.

MISSION

- ❖ Provide a unique opportunity to the youngsters for a career in one of the green gold industrial processing sectors, viz. bamboo-based industry, responsible for processing bamboo and other renewable fibre materials to meet certain vital human needs in a most environment-friendly manner.
- ❖ It will facilitate evolving strategies for augmenting production, application of relevant technologies and adaptation to the global market.

CENTRE FOR BODO STUDIES

The “CENTRE FOR BODO STUDIES (CBS)” started functioning in 2014 based on the Memorandum of Settlement of Bodo Accord, 2003. Bodoland University designed the centre to facilitate scholars, thinkers and interested individuals in augmenting a new study approach on the Bodo Ethnic Group of North East India with reference to national and international viewpoints. The primary concept of the centre is to contribute to the enormity of Indian diversity in nation-building approaches. Bodoland University envisioned building Bodo language and culture and antiquity an entity of the great Indian culture. Now, the centre has become a part of the University with substantial autonomy to function and solitary identity as “Centre,” to run by this Regulation. The Centre for Bodo Studies supports three types of scholars to undertake their studies. Firstly, the research scholars who want to undertake their studies on the related premise of Language, Culture and Antiquity of the Bodos can be registered member scholars of the Centre. Secondly, the writers or thinkers who have no requisite degrees to carry out research work but having good studies and knowledge on the area can also register as member scholars. Thirdly, who are energized to study various aspects of the Bodos methodically or want to publish their research works in an organized way can also become member scholar of the Centre. The Centre would extend memberships with available sources and guidance to find the goal in these three categories of scholars and learners. The centre also organizes seminar, workshop, training on various knowledge and skill of Bodo group and share their research findings with the nation and abroad.

BACKGROUND

The Bodo Accord, signed between the Government of India, the Government of Assam and under the Bodo leaders, has recommended establishing a Centre / Institute for research, development and spreading of the Bodo language. It has been mentioned in the Sl. No. 1 of the Annexure-4 of the Bodo Accord, 2003.

The establishment of a Centre for Bodo Studies in the Kokrajhar Campus of Gauhati University is a long-cherished desire of the Bodo people, intellectuals, writers, artists, social activists, journalists, social workers and scholars of this region. The project has a special significance after the signing of the Bodo Accord, which brings these aboriginal people under the sixth schedule of the Indian Constitution for their protection and development and the Bodo Language under the Eight scheduled for upholding and promotion of the Bodo language, culture and arts.

In 2000, the Educational Consultant India Limited, a Govt. of India Enterprise, which was deputed by the MHRD, Govt. of India, to study the feasibility of an autonomous University at Kokrajhar had suggested setting up a Centre for Bodo Studies at University Campus, Kokrajhar with its up-gradation to a full-fledged University. The Bodo language, literature, Culture and folklore, despite their richness, remain unexposed due to the lack of the patronage of the government for their exploration. The Bodos have developed literature with eminent playwrights, novelists and short story writers among them. Nevertheless, the Bodo language and literature investigations or methodical research are yet to be done due to the lack of proper facilities and institutional support.

The Bodoland University, which conducts a Master Degree course and research works, cannot cover the entire aspects of the Bodos like history, socio-economy, culture, behaviour, language, religion etc. Many of these fields are still virgin and need to be exploited scientifically. So, there was enough potentiality for running a Centre for Bodo Studies at the university level to cater for the need of the scholars of different disciplines. The establishment of a Study Centre at Bodoland University is very fruitful as its catchment area cover entire North East India, West Bengal and neighbouring countries like Nepal, Bangladesh, Bhutan, who have had close contact with the Bodos since time immemorial and will give scope for studying inter-state culture, language and literature. The growth of Bodo language, literature and culture in tune with the development of mainstream India will help instil national feeling, moral responsibilities among the Bodos and promote fellow feeling in the region.

VISION

Centre for Bodo Studies (CBS) has envisioned reconstructing the endangered Bodo culture, language and antiquity, which was about to disappear amid the globalization process. The Bodo language and culture need to be developed suitably to cope with the other language and cultures of the country. India being a multi-cultural and multi-lingual nation, offers scope for self-development and self-identity to all small communities. The mission of the Centre shall be to carry out extensive study in organized ways for creating and enhancing the domain of fundamental knowledge with new tools and methods in a scientific way through the quality study, research, consultancy, learning & teaching, documentation, archiving and digitization, exchanging ideas of culture, language, racial identity and so forth. Centre for Bodo Studies (CBS) is an interdisciplinary concept in its realm with a quest for proper knowledge and dissemination. It intends to become a pioneering force in developing academic potential among its ethnic group in the region. It shall have facilities and provision for extension and exchange of knowledge and studies with other like-minded institutions of India and abroad.

MISSION

- ❖ To preserve documents, traditional sculpture, painting and statues etc.
- ❖ To organize lectures/workshops/training on the various aspects of language, culture and history of the Bodos.
- ❖ To drive for enlisting members scholars for the centre from writers, scholars and learners.
- ❖ To organize training and research on Bodo art and the development of practical skills.
- ❖ To carry out a comparative study on the Bodos and allied groups.

ACTIVITIES

An International Seminar titled "Act East Policy of India and Engagement with ASEAN" was organised on 30th and 31st January 2020. Prof. Elias Hossain, Department of Economics, Rajshahi University, Rajshahi, Bangladesh; Prof. Abdul Wadud, Department of Economics, Rajshahi University, Rajshahi, Bangladesh; Dr. Rajnish Ratna, Associate Professor, Department of Business Studies, Royal University of Bhutan, Bhutan; Prof. U. K. De, Department of Economics, NEHU, Shillong; Prof. Deb Kumar Chakrabarty, Department of Economics, Dibrugarh University, Prof. Jyotiraj Pathak, Department of Political Science, Bodoland University, Kokrajhar participated as Resource persons.

With the alarming growth of the global population, the proportionate growth of food and nutrition is always a prime concern. The issue becomes even grimmer with the depletion of potent agricultural land and other resources. One more issue that started finding importance among discussion of different fora is solid waste management, including agricultural waste. Mushroom cultivation is found to be such as bolete, puffball, stinkhorn, and morel.

The act of consuming mushrooms (mycophagy) dates back to ancient times. Edible mushrooms can appear either below ground (hypogeous) or above ground (epigeous) & edibility may be defined by criteria that include the absence of poisonous effects on humans and desirable taste and aroma. A popular answer to all the above concerns stands as quality food requires less land and can be a tool to manage agricultural waste. Diversification in any farming system imparts sustainability. Mushrooms are one such component that not only imparts diversification but also help in addressing the problems of quality food, health, and environmental sustainability. Consumption of mushrooms on a daily basis boosts the health of the consumer.

The attributes are good for the heart (no cholesterol), low-calorie food (good for diabetic patients), prevents cancer (especially prostate and breast cancer by arresting the action of 5-alpha reductase and aromatase, these enzymes are responsible for the growth of cancerous tumor), anti-ageing property (the polysaccharide from Mushroom are potent scavengers of superoxide free radical), regulates the digestive system, strengthen immunity. Mushroom like Trametes versicolor synthesizes Polysaccharide-K (Kresin), which is a leading anti-cancer drug. Mushroom is the fruiting body of fungi visible outside and can be seen by the naked eye. Biologically, Mushroom describes various gilled fungi, with or without stems, and the term is used even more generally to describe both the fleshy fruiting bodies and leathery fruiting bodies. Morphology deviating from the standard usually has more specific names such as bolete, puffball, stinkhorn and morel.

GENESIS OF THE WORK

Mushroom, a low-cost health food nutraceutical in nature having massive agro-waste conversion ability, highest producer of protein per unit area & time, is highly suitable as a tool for developing rural entrepreneurship and sustainable development in the mountains. Further, Bodoland Territorial Area District (BTAD, 6th Schedule Area) and North Eastern States (Eastern Himalayan States) make mushroom cultivation highly suitable and feasible through a series of easily understandable entrepreneurship & skill development training for the purpose. Further, virtues like minimal resource requirement, meagre capital investment, less water requirement, less land requirement, wide availability of organic agro waste, and potential domestic and international market make mushroom cultivation venture a model tool for stand-up India & start-up India concept. Mycophagy is a common practice in tribal communities. Most of the people and rural youth of BTAD are from tribal & other communities and are mostly belong to economically backward families (BPL) who have started emerging as potential Indian youth despite having a recent hard past. Department of Biotechnology, Bodoland University has identified this vital issue. With the help of DBT-GoI and the local BTC Government since 2013, it started addressing the local, rural and women entrepreneurs, farmers with alternative and double income through mushroom-based tools followed by their value addition and marketing. Initially, the venture was confined to BTAD districts of Kokrajhar, Chirang, Baksa, and Udalguri of Assam. Subsequently, it has spread to other districts of Assam and other states like Sikkim, Manipur, Nagaland, Arunachal Pradesh. Initially, the work was conducted under the DBT-Sponsored Institutional Biotech Hub. However, the work is subsequently carried out under DBT –sponsored ‘Technology Incubation Centre for entrepreneurship development through mushroom culture & farming’.

VISION

Socio-economic upliftment and empowerment of rural entrepreneurs in mushroom culture and farming, especially women entrepreneur

MISSION

- ❖ Bio conversion of agro solid waste through the mushroom
- ❖ Providing alternative income to rural entrepreneurs by eco-friendly green energy

PADMASHREE MODARAM BRAHMA CENTRAL LIBRARY

Padmashree Madaram Brahma Central Library (PMBCL) is the liveliest place on the campus providing a safe, comfortable and friendly environment that enables learning and advancement of knowledge and promotes discovery and scholarship. The mission of the library is to facilitate the creation of new knowledge through the acquisition, organization and dissemination of knowledge resources along with providing value-added services. The library was established in 2001 in a small room as a part of Gauhati University, Kokrajhar Campus. The library was upgraded in 2009 as a full-fledged University library and the up-gradation of Gauhati University, Kokrajhar campus into a full-fledged state University in the name and style of Bodoland University. Since then, the library of Bodoland University has been known as Bodoland University Central Library. The library was confined in a single room till 2013, and on 12th August 2013, Library was shifted to a multi-storeyed separate building. Despite financial hardship, the library has been trying its best to develop modern library services to provide sufficient knowledge resources to the University's academic community effectively. In 2015, the Central Library was named after a renowned bureaucrat, poet and dramatist, Padmashree Madaram Brahma. Since then, the Central Library of Bodoland University has been renamed as “Padmashree Madaram Brahma Central Library”.

KOHA has been installed as Integrated Library Management Software (ILMS) to manage and organise library systems. At present, the barcode-based circulation system, i.e. issue return of the books, is being practised. The library holds more than 24000 print books, more than 1600 E-Journals, JSTOR and other resources like M.Phil. & Ph.D Dissertation, Project work reports etc.

The library has a Digital Library section having 17 dedicated Personal Computers fully with high-speed internet connectivity, enabling library users to access various subscribed resources and browse the world of the web in search of various resources. With the implementation of Web-OPAC, the holdings of the library can be viewed by anybody from anywhere in the world 24×7.

PMBCL BU has successfully implemented the Remote Access Platform called Remotex to enable library users to access subscribed E-Resources from the comfort of their places wherever they go at any time, i.e., 24×7. PMBCL has also successfully implemented its digital repository in the name and style of Bodoland University Digital Library using DSpace software. This library will play a vital role in building an institutional repository of various resources of the University like Old Question papers, Thesis & Dissertations, Annual Reports, policy documents, etc., in electronic format, which will be accessible by anybody at anytime from anywhere in the world.

A dedicated and independent dynamic website has been designed and launched to provide single stop access to all the above portals/platforms. The library is also involved in conducting various programmes like user awareness, workshops, seminars, conferences, book exhibitions, career awareness, etc., in contributing to the University's academic and general activities.

I. ESTABLISHING THE CENTRAL LIBRARY

The first step towards establishing the library was taken in 2009 with a single room in the old administrative building. The library worked without library staff member/s for about 4 years. In August 2013, the Central Library was shifted to its present location with about 9254 sq. ft floor space.

The library has implemented Library management System Software SOUL2.0 with a barcode-based circulation system. The issue/return of the books is now being converted into an automated system. The university's academic community is provided with necessary reference/information services based on their specific need. In addition, the library extends reference and internet services to the local academic and civil society members.

University is already connected with DeLnet, through which the academic community of the University can access online resources extended by these consortia. Internet facility is also provided in the library through the 1gbps NKN line. In addition to the online resources available through these consortia, University has also taken an initiative to procure/subscribed selective new resources in 2017. Users can selectively photocopy the required books/journals articles, etc., through an outsourced photocopy centre outside the Central Library.

The World Environment Day, 2021
Ecosystem Restoration

Ecosystem restoration can happen by actively planting trees or eliminating pressure on the ecosystem by shielding the environment or reducing the escalating pollution level.

We have been exploiting our planet's ecosystem for long. The world loses enough forest cover and have destroyed half of our wetlands. Up to 90 per cent of coral reefs could be lost by 2050, even if global warming is limited to an increase of 1.5°C.

Ecosystem Restoration means preventing, halting and reversing this damage. World Environmental day will flag off the UN Decade of Ecosystem Restoration, a global mission to revive billions of hectares - from forest to farmlands, from top of the mountains to the depth of the sea.

Above all, World Environment Day offers a global platform for inspiring positive change.
