

DEPARTMENT OF HISTORY

PH.D COURSE OUTCOME

COURSE OUTCOMES:

1. Course Code HIST.I: Research Methodology

CO-1: This course teaches about scientific research and its different types.

CO-2: It gives knowledge on ontology, epistemology and methodology of scientific research in social sciences.

CO-3: This course helps in understanding different approaches to research and formulation of research problems and research designs.

CO-4: It helps in understanding various methods including historical method for conducting research in social sciences, particularly for historical research.

CO-5: This course also helps in learning different variables, reasoning and formulation of hypothesis.

CO-6: Research students will learn the methods of data collections for research in social sciences.

CO-7: This course will make research students acquainted with writing any form of research proposals.

CO-8: The research students will have expertise in data analysis and report writing.

2. Course Code HIST.II: Introduction of Computer Applications

CO-1: The course will teach the basic computer skills and it will help the scholars in expediting their research.

CO-2: It will equip students with using power point, ms word, excel sheet etc.

CO-3: This will teach research students the technique of coding in research

CO-4: It will make research students using internet services for research purposes and it will help in obtaining data from variety of sources

CO-5: It will teach about using e-library, e-resources etc.

CO-6: It will teach research students to use software for data analysis in qualitative research, viz., ATLAS.ti, NVivo, SPSS, Data analysis in excel sheet

3. Course Code HIST.III: History and Theory

CO-1: This course is dealing with the introductory part of history as well as methodological part also for understanding the history as a whole.

- CO-2: It will teach about the different theories to study the historical perspectives.
- CO-3: This paper also helps to understand the successive stages of history.
- CO-4: This course teaches the students about the history writing trend of different ages.
- CO-5: It will bring science interpretation in historical studies.
- CO-6: It is also expanded the scope of history for further research.
- CO-7: This course brings out the writing trends of Indian history as well as emerges of trend in modern context.
- CO-8 This paper will give lots of information regarding the study of local history as well as micro history.

4. Course Code HIST.IV: Historiography of North East India

- CO-1: At the end of this course students will be able to learn different aspects of Historiography of North East India
- CO-2: It will help the scholar to gain knowledge about the different sources of history in North East India.
- CO-3: It will help the scholar to learn the importance and use of archive in their research.
- CO-4: It will make research scholar identify and define the useful of Census and Demographic Sources
- CO-5: It will prepare the scholar to compare and contrast the multiple determinants of history of North East India
- CO-6: It Outline the importance of Oral Tradition and it's used in research
- CO-7: It will teach about regional history
- CO-8: It will equip research scholar with using Reports, Memoirs, etc. in research

5. Course Code HIST.V: Research and Publication Ethics

- CO-1: This will bring awareness about the publication ethics
- CO-2: It will develop a sense of research integrity and publication ethics
- CO-3: It will identify research misconduct and predatory publications
- CO-4: It will give an idea on plagiarism tools.
- CO-5: This will introduce research students to indexing and citation database, open access publications, research metrics such as citations, h-index, impact factor, etc.